Field Service Engineer

HMF UK is a wholly owned subsidiary of Danish multinational HMF a/s, one of the world players in lorry mounted loader cranes. Our success is based on our reputation for outstanding quality and reliability, backed by first class service. HMF customers operate at the sharp end of the industry, and expect high standards.

Attractive package plus benefits • Location Flexible

In the past two years we have significantly increased the number of our cranes in the UK market, which has created the need for additional field based technicians.

Reporting to the Aftermarket Manager, this is a demanding role requiring flexibility, technical competence and business acumen.

The successful candidate will be a highly motivated individual with extensive experience in a field service role. Previous work with hydraulic systems is essential, experience of cranes is desirable. Able to work on their own initiative as well as part of a focussed team, they must possess the communication skills to be able to deal effectively with customers and business partners.

In addition to an attractive salary, the Company will provide a range of benefits and all the equipment and training necessary to carry out the work effectively. You would also benefit from being part of a dynamic, successful and ambitious team

For more information on the Company visit www.hmf.dk. Applications should be submitted by email to richard.e@hmfcranes.co.uk. All applications will be acknowledged and treated in the strictest confidence.
